TOWN AND VILLAGE STATISTICS.

PREFACE.

THIS volume contains the same information for each village as is found in the corresponding volume in 1911, but an important addition has been made in supplying the totals for the divisions and sub-divisions into which the villages are grouped. The labour involved in doing so was much greater than might be expected, but the increased usefulness of the volume should be commensurate with the additional work. The numbers assigned to the village headmen's divisions in the Kacheheri List of Villages, 1912-14, have been added for ease of reference. Abandoned villages have not been omitted, as was the former practice. The names of the villages printed in italics, or names in italics bracketed with villages, denote the village headmen's divisions.

Full details are given with regard to changes of area, particularly as regards the absorption of villages or parts of villages by newly formed townships, or by the extension of those already existing. This also involved considerable additional labour, but was found to be very necessary for the satisfactory use of the data in practice. I am greatly obliged to the Chief Headmen for the great care taken by them in answering numerous queries which arose during the investigations made. It may be added that changes of administrative limits, which are involved in the extension of town limits or in the formation of new towns, however necessary or desirable they may be for administrative or electoral purposes, may often upset the statistics very considerably. This disturbance may be minimized by transferring to the new areas whole administrative units, such as villages, and not parts of them.

With regard to the transliteration of the place names, it was originally intended to show all the names with the appropriate diacriticals, so that the names might be pronounced more or less correctly at sight. But it was found that the printing and checking of the diacriticals would cause delay in publication, which would have been hardly justifiable. In accordance with the latest recommendations, v has been generally used in place of w, while c represents the old ch throughout. A new edition of the Kacheheri List of Villages is overdue, and, when it is undertaken, the question of the transliteration should receive attention.

† Uninhabited at both Censuses.

‡ Outdoor population is for the whole of Demala Hatpattuva.

§ Figures are not available.

|| Figures as tabulated in 1911, but adjusted for transference of Udappu North from Puttalam District (see footnote to Police Vidane's Division No. 594). These

 Old Pittigal Korale Central divided since 1911 between this and Pittigal North. Meda Palata and Yatakalam Pattuva being added to the former, and Yagum Pattuva to the latter. 1911 figures are adjusted for this change; but similarly adjusted figures in Table I. of Population Tables, 1911 show 1 habitable building more, and 10 females less than these.

* 1911 outdoor population is for the whole of Vellavaya Division, and 1921 for Kandapalla Korale.

† Figures are not available.

‡ As tabulated in Town and Village Statistics Volume, 1911, but adjusted as far as possible for transference of a part of Asgungula and Hunugevatta from Kegalla District (see footnote to Kendangamiva Sanitary Board in Vasama No. 136). These figures differ from similarly adjusted figures in Table I. of Population Tables, 1911 (see footnote below).

§ Include 3,098 Literates (8,650 males and 4,998 females).

¶ As tabulated in Town and Village Statistics Volume, 1911, but adjusted for change of area (see footnote above). Figures in Table I. of Population Tables, 1911, similarly adjusted show 6,150 habitable buildings and 41,272 persons (23,413 males and 17,859 females).

¶ Includes Hunugevatta and a part of Asgungula transferred from Vasama No. 136 to Panaval Korale West in Kegalla District. 1911 figures for part of Asgungula not included here.

 1911 figures are for the whole village before the inclusion of a part in Kendangamiva.
